The Philharmonic Orchestra Series

A new series of orchestral compositions so planned as to include a complete orchestral score in addition to the usual instrumental parts. These orchestral scores are prepared with two objects in view:

1. For practical rehearsal and performance on the conductor's stand.
2. For classroom study in the individual hands of students of orchestration and of music appreciation.

Each score includes a complete though optional Piano part, which is also published separately, so as to be available either for accompaniment in the orchestra, or as a solo piano piece.

The scores are carefully graded, thus making them of especial value to school and college orchestras.

The complete series will eventually cover a wide range of compositions.

Verses and Music by Helen Cramm

$1.25 Net. Introductory Copy to Supervisors, 50c

Verses suited to the child-mind, celebrating great events in American history and set to appropriate tunes. Playground and recreation workers as well as teachers will find this collection not only useful for instruction, but ideal for keeping youngsters amused and interested.

The Mayflower sail'd up Plymouth Bay
One bleak November day,
And brought a hundred faithful souls
Who sought a place to pray,
Not after rule and rite of kings,
But each in his own way.

The UNIVERSITY COURSE of MUSIC STUDY

A Standardizing Text-Work

For the Use of

Private Teachers, Colleges and Conservatories

CONTAINING ALL THE TEXT AND MUSIC FOR A COMPLETE COURSE OF INSTRUCTION IN

The TECHNIC of PIANO PLAYING and the INTERPRETATION of MUSIC

Including History, Theory, Ear Training and Kindred Subjects

The UNIVERSITY COURSE of MUSIC STUDY is a comprehensive outline of the essentials of music; it is not a method—it is a compendium of all methods. It will meet every scholastic requirement as the basis for credit in Schools, Conservatories and educational institutions of all kinds where music is taught.

The value of text material, enabling the student to prepare the lesson in advance of the recitation period, is accepted in every branch of education other than music study. It is equally essential to the best progress in music.

The UNIVERSITY COURSE of MUSIC STUDY makes it possible for the music teacher to utilize this principle without in any degree cramping his individuality or sacrificing his accustomed principles of pedagogy. Teachers desiring to use the work are not compelled to take an examination to demonstrate their ability to teach it.

The six principal divisions, or grades, contain more than 3,000 pages of music and text; 600 compositions; 200 etudes; 300 illustrations; 600 exercises, by 150 composers, representing every school and epoch. The actual music contained is of itself a stupendous repertoire for either student or artist.

The UNIVERSITY COURSE of MUSIC STUDY was made by practical teachers to meet every-day conditions. The Board of Editors: RUDLPH GANZ, EDWIN HUGHES, KATE S. CHITTENDEN, THOMAS TAPPER, CHARLES DENNEE, LOUIS C. ELSON, MORTIMER WILSON, NICHOLAS DEVORE and more than thirty others of the foremost American teachers and musical authorities working under the direction of the National Academy of Music.

Write at once for descriptive literature. To see THE UNIVERSITY COURSE is to adopt it. For particulars, address

Practical Lesson Plans in Harmony

HELEN S. LEAVITT

Twenty-four concise lesson plans for harmonic study and ear training.

"Practical Lesson Plans in Harmony" makes it possible for the student to acquire power and at the same time to make use of it. It is not in any sense a treatise on the subject of harmony, but rather an outline of the principles governing harmonic composition. These outlines are suitable for use by both teacher and pupil in high-school, academy, and conservatory courses.
